July 28, 2008 (WPVI) -- New program names the Classic Towns of Greater Philadelphia.

It's a new designation by the Regional Planning Commission, designed to increase tourism in 11 communities deemed great places to live, work, and play.

Ben Franklin signed a special declaration at Independence Mall today, with representatives and mayors from the towns.

The inaugural Classic Towns are listed as follows:

Pennsylvania

Ambler
Bristol Borough
Doylestown Borough
Lansdowne
Media
West Chester

Philadelphia

Manayunk
Overbrook Farms

New Jersey

Collingswood
Haddon Heights
